

Something might have come up.

Alan and his two other friends Robyn and Scottie have a meeting. They have all arrived except for Alan. Robyn and Scottie are a little worried....

Robyn: Has Alan shown up yet?

Scottie: Nope. I guess something might have come up.

Robyn: I wonder what happened.

Scottie: I don't know. I hope it's nothing serious.

Robyn: Last week, his sister was admitted to the hospital.

Scottie: Oh? What happened?

Robyn: His sister had a car accident last week.

Scottie: Is she fine now?

Robyn: She's still in a coma.

Scottie: Oh, poor Alan. His sister is the only he has left since his parents died last year.

Vocabularies:

Serious- Being of such import as to cause anxiety, as of a physical condition.

Admitted- To have room for; accommodate.

Accident- An unexpected and undesirable event, especially one resulting in damage or harm:

Coma- A state of deep, often prolonged unconsciousness,

Expressions

Something might happen

Oh, poor (name)

Nope

Practice

Robyn: Last week his sister was _____ to the hospital.

Scottie: Oh? What _____?

Robyn: His sister had a car _____ last week.

Scottie: Is she _____ now?

Robyn: _____ still in a coma.